A warm welcome to all new and returning competitors to this celebration of Performing Arts in the Shoalhaven.

2024 is our 40th year of eisteddfod and we hope that the performers, their families and teachers will find the experience both uplifting and encouraging. Not only will a professional adjudicator give helpful feedback on your performance, you also gain valuable experience and confidence in presenting to an audience who look forward to four weeks of entertainment in the fields of music, dance and drama.

We acknowledge with thanks the support of our volunteers, our sponsors and donors who make this eisteddfod possible each year. If you would like to support us into the future please make contact with one of our committee.

ADJUDICATOR JANET MORRIS

Janet Morris was born in the Illawarra, and has always lived there, except when she has been studying or working overseas. She has always sung, both as a soloist and in choirs and ensembles. Her first choral performance (when she was in kindergarten) was “The Wedding of the Painted Doll” which was both sung and staged.

Janet has sung in choirs and opera choruses both in Australia and in Europe. Her career as teacher of French and German has led to numerous overseas opportunities, and while living in other countries, she has sung in a variety of choirs. She thinks that singing in a choir is the best way to make friends, learn a new language and become familiar with a culture. It also teaches vocal and concentration skills, as well as, most importantly, engendering a love of music.

Janet currently conducts the Dutch Australian Choir and sings in the Illawarra Choral Society.

David Vance holds honours degrees in English Literature (UNSW) and in music performance (Sydney) and pursued further musical studies as an accompanist and conductor in Italy, Austria and England. He taught at the University of Sydney and the NSW Conservatorium of Music before his appointment in 1982 by the University of Wollongong with a specific brief to develop musical activities on campus. When he retired in 2012 as an Associate Professor, his contribution to the musical life of the University was recognised in the award of an Honorary Fellowship.

David has performed with some of Australia's leading artists over many years and has broadcast and recorded chamber music for the ABC. He remains active as a concert artist, frequently appearing with local musicians and orchestral programs.

David has had a long association with the Illawarra Choral Society, dating back to 1975 when he was appointed its official accompanist. Since then, he has variously accompanied and conducted the choir, frequently in programs of major choral-orchestral works including Mozart Requiem, Haydn's oratorio, The Creation, Beethoven's Mass in C and Orff's Carmina Burana, often in collaboration with The University Singers, the chamber choir he founded in 1978.

ADJUDICATOR MERRY DICKINS

Merry's career in Speech and Drama began with a study group of four like-minded friends in Mount Gambier. The group supported each other through a series of AMEB exams. Merry's study culminated in a Licentiate in Drama and Performance (Teacher).

Merry has taught hundreds of school students in the Mount Gambier district and supported them through the Mount Gambier and Warrnambool Eisteddfods over many years. She takes particular delight and satisfaction seeing her students develop their skills and confidence in public speaking and performing.

Merry has adjudicated in Sri Lanka and Warrnambool on two occasions and also at Alice Springs, Burnie and City of Clarence in Tasmania. She is also scheduled to adjudicate later this year for Sri Lanka via Zoom and Cowra in NSW.

She now resides in NSW and is thrilled to return to Mount Gambier to be a part of the 2023 Eisteddfod.

This Eisteddfod is organised by the members to encourage people to take an interest in Cultural Activities. Although prizes are awarded, we hope that all contestants may feel rewarded by a sense of achievement in having prepared themselves to take part.

Schools find that taking part in an Eisteddfod is a valuable educational and social exercise in student development and experience. Participation by school students is approved under the regulations of the NSW Department of Education & Training.

All finances raised are used for the furthering of the Eisteddfod. A special thank you to all who help before and during the Eisteddfod. Without their assistance the Eisteddfod would not be able to function.
